Dear colleagues and friends!

Herewith we would like to invite you to the 23rd meeting of the European Vegetation Survey that will be held in Ljubljana, Slovenia, from 8th to 12th May 2014. We propose wide topics of the workshop in order to give opportunity to all colleagues to present their research results. Our plan for this workshop includes three days of presentations and two days of excursions. The excursions aim to show you the typical habitats of Slovenia, for this purpose there will be a mid-workshop excursion where you can choose which of the three options (dry grasslands, wet meadows and primeval forests) is more attractive to you, and a post-workshop excursion where we will visit dry grasslands and wet meadows.

The annual meeting of the European Vegetation Survey is one of the most important meetings in the field of vegetation science in Europe, which offers to participants the possibility to get acquainted with the development of science in this field. In the 23rd Workshop of the European Vegetation Survey you will have opportunity to present your research achievements with lectures and posters, discuss various topics with the colleagues, build personal contacts and enjoy the excursions.

We wish to see many of you in Ljubljana!
